Students can do more at Wingate University...

Wingate University is experiencing tremendous growth with a student body this fall that, for the first time ever, exceeds 1,700. In order to meet the demands of a busy and productive university, Wingate is expanding with new facilities and renovations.

Founded in 1896, Wingate University consistently ranks among the best small colleges and is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The University offers 37 undergraduate majors and master degrees in business and education.

In the fall of 2003, Wingate University made another giant step in both university and pharmacy history, enrolling the charter class of the Wingate University School of Pharmacy. This spring, the school will graduate its first class of pharmacists. All 60 students who began the program in 2003 will graduate.

The Wingate University School of Pharmacy is one of three schools of pharmacy in North Carolina, and the only one in the Piedmont Region. The Cannon Academic Building, which houses the School of Pharmacy, features study rooms, labs, a drug information center, lecture halls and a student lounge. Pharmacy students can utilize Café a la Carte for their dining convenience.

The Dickson-Palmer Student Center offers the ideal location for students to meet, catch a snack or a meal at the Klondike snack bar, work out in the fitness center, play pool or visit the campus bookstore. A recent remodeling of the center has created a large central meeting area with a movable stage for special events.

The Ethel K. Smith Library is home to a vast collection of books, periodicals, and other resources. A Starbucks coffee shop is conveniently located in the library, featuring a patio seating area for students to take an outdoor coffee break and visit with friends.

The new Hayes Classroom Building opens this fall, taking some strain from the overflowing class schedule of Burris Hall. Burris will now house offices for many faculty members. Classes will be spread out across Burris and Hayes.

Interior renovations were made in the summer of 2005 to Helms Residence Hall, giving the entire building a makeover. A new annex to Cannon Residence Hall increased space for freshman women by 84 beds. Upperclassmen may choose the best in apartment living on campus at Jefferson at Wingate. These apartments are fully equipped with all of the conveniences of home. Additionally, construction will begin this year on a new 72-bed student housing complex.

The women’s softball team will enjoy a new field house with locker rooms for added convenience. Also new this year is a concession stand and restroom facility that overlooks Ron Christopher Baseball Stadium and Plyler Athletic Field.

Wingate University also offers students and visitors the opportunity to attend concerts in the George A. Batte Jr. Fine Arts Center. The 2006-07 concert offerings include Mickey Rooney, The Baltimore Consort, the American Chamber Players, Daria Rabotkina, and Five By Design, to name a few. Two Saturday matinees for children are planned for 2006-07.

Every student at Wingate University enjoys the opportunity to travel abroad at little or no additional cost through W’International and other study abroad programs. Over the past 26 years, students and their professors have visited several hundred destinations on five continents throughout the world. Students may also spend a semester abroad in London, Copenhagen and Hong Kong.

More than 40 clubs and organizations, including sororities and fraternities, call Wingate University home. These clubs and organizations give students the opportunity to volunteer in the community and develop leadership skills and friendships that last forever. For students who seek faith-based organizations, the Christian Student Union (CSU) and weekly campus worship services provide a chance to celebrate faith and come together as a family.

Whether an individual participates in the W’International program, is a member of an organization, attends a concert during the year or participates in athletics or intramural sports, students at Wingate University are perpetually busy. There is always something right around the corner to learn, participate in or volunteer for, giving students the chance to follow the three Wingate University pillars: faith, knowledge and service.
2006 SEASON OUTLOOK

The Wingate University men’s soccer team will rely on a veteran defensive unit and improved offensive speed during the 2006 season. Head coach Gary Hamill and the Bulldogs open the new season Friday, hosting Coker College under the lights at the Wingate University soccer facility (7 p.m.).

“The strengths of this team are two-fold: we return four starters on defense and we have put together a core group of good young players,” Hamill said. “We graduated much experience this past season, so other individuals will have to step up.”

Defenders Kerrin Sheldon and Lee Minton were both named to the preseason All-South Atlantic Conference team. They will lead a defense that allowed only 32 goals in 22 matches last season.

Nolan Sheldon, Jordan Bowen, Chris Bohach and Matt Capasso also return with starting experience in the defensive third. Nolan Sheldon was one of only two Bulldogs to start every match in 2005.

Freshmen Brian Hehn and Adam Joerres will also provide support at the defender position. Wingate’s experience in the defensive third will be very important, as none of Wingate’s three goalkeepers has started an intercollegiate match. Freshman Evan Rouse and juniors Jonathan Shute and Matt Van Liew are engaged in a battle for the starting goalkeeper position.

Senior midfielder Zach Beitzel returns for his final season for the Bulldogs. Junior Sean Snyder and sophomores Weston Holley and Dana Scobey will also battle for playing time in the midfield.

The midfield veterans will have help, as sophomore midfielder Mbougue Franklin leads an impressive group of newcomers. Junior Jonathan Gribben and freshmen Casey Player, Ryan Ewing, Jared Hawley and Sean Murphy hope to make an impact before the season is over. Player is a local product from Parkwood High School.

Hamill and assistant coach Thomas Szvetitz will look to new faces to provide additional scoring punch for the Bulldogs. “We will have new forwards this season,” Hamill said. “We hope they can step in and score some goals for us right away.”

Freshman Junior Nyemb will have an opportunity to put his mark on the Wingate offense. Freshmen A.J. Wullschleger, Phil Sherrill and Josh Andersen will be expected to make an immediate contribution to Wingate’s offensive fortunes. A.J. Wullschleger played with Casey Player at Parkwood.
Hamill believes the Bulldogs had a productive preseason camp. “The expectations for preseason were to find the best nucleus of players to put on the pitch,” Hamill said. In his 13 years as the Wingate men’s soccer coach, Hamill has compiled an overall record of 167-88-13. He has more wins than any other Wingate soccer coach.

As is the case every season, the Bulldogs have one of the top schedules in the region. Wingate will play six matches against members of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WVIAC). The Bulldogs will play in the region with the WVIAC schools for one more season.

In addition, Wingate will face Francis Marion at home this season. C.W. Post and New York Tech will come to town for the Wingate Invitational. The Bulldogs will look to add more SAC hardware, with four of seven league matches on the friendly pitch at Wingate.

All total, 12 of Wingate’s 19 matches will be played at home. Hamill believes this will benefit a young Wingate side. “We will be looking at different combinations (of players) in our early matches,” Hamill said. Each non-league match will help the Bulldogs prepare for their SAC opener against Newberry on Sept. 6 at Wingate.

The Wingate University Soccer Complex is one of the finest facilities in the Southeast. Adjacent to the WU Soccer Complex, the Bulldogs enjoy a newly renovated field house.
Gary Hamill is Wingate University’s associate athletic director and director of soccer. Also, he is the head coach for the Wingate University men’s soccer team. He has also served the University for two seasons as head coach for women’s soccer. Hamill is the winningest coach in the history of men’s soccer at Wingate University.

In 13 years as the Wingate University men’s soccer coach, Hamill has compiled an overall record of 167-88-13. Hamill won his 150th game at Wingate on September 29, 2004, as the Bulldogs topped Catawba College 5-3 at Irwin Belk Stadium and John R. Martin Field on the Wingate campus.

In 2005, Hamill led Wingate to a 12-8-2 overall record (3-3-1 in the SAC). Three players were selected for the All-Appalachian Region teams: midfielder Ben Clark, forward Robert Dawson and midfielder James Lavery. Dawson was named to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America® men’s soccer third team (college division), selected by CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America).

In 2002, the Bulldogs were 16-6-1 overall (5-2-0 in the SAC). Wingate won the Food Lion South Atlantic Conference tournament in 2002, defeating host Tusculum College Pioneers 1-0 in a thrilling final.

The 1999 Bulldogs qualified for the NCAA Division II tournament for the first time in school history. Wingate completed the 1999 season 17-5-1 overall (8-0-0 SAC). Wingate won the SAC regular season championship with the first-ever 8-0-0 league ledger. Hamill was the SAC Coach of the Year in 1999.

Hamill’s teams have won three conference regular season championships (1994, 1999 and 2001) and two Food Lion South Atlantic Conference tournament titles (1994, 2002). Hamill has been named South Atlantic Conference Coach of the Year an unprecedented four times (1993, 1994, 1999 and 2001).

On the national scene, Hamill has served as chair of the NCAA Division II men’s soccer committee for two years. Hamill was responsible for administering the NCAA Division II men’s soccer championships, coordinating the efforts of eight regional advisory committees. He is currently a member of the NCAA Soccer rules committee.

He has also served as the chair for the NCAA South Regional Advisory Committee for two years. In addition, he served three seasons as the national chairman of the NSCAA Umbro Select NCAA Division II top 25 ranking committee.

Hamill led Wingate to a school-record 18-2-1 overall record in 1994 (7-0-0 SAC). In 1994, the Bulldogs won the SAC regular season and tournament titles.

Hamill also earned SAC “coach of the year” honors in 1993, his first year as Wingate mentor. In 1993, Hamill’s 15-6-1 record earned him the NCAA/NSCAA South Regional “coach of the year” award. Hamill was a finalist for the NCAA/NSCAA national “coach of the year” award.

As women’s head coach, Hamill compiled a 20-19-0 overall record in two seasons. His 1996 team went 9-10-0 overall, earning a first-ever berth in the South Atlantic Conference tournament final four. His 1997 side established a then-school record for victories, ending the season with a 11-9-0 overall mark.

A native of Belfast, Northern Ireland, Hamill graduated from Orangefield High School and then attended the College of Charleston in Charleston, S.C. Hamill played soccer at both Orangefield High School and the College of Charleston.
Thomas Szvetitz is entering his second year as a graduate assistant soccer coach at Wingate University. In addition to his numerous coaching responsibilities, Szvetitz is working on his MBA in Wingate’s School of Business.

A four-year starter for the Bulldogs during his playing career, Szvetitz was a second team NSCAA/adidas NCAA Division II All-America in 2004. Szvetitz was named to the NSCAA/adidas NCAA Division II All-Appalachian Region team last year. He was named All-Region three years in a row.

Szvetitz is a four-time All-South Atlantic Conference performer. As a sophomore in 2002, Szvetitz was named honorable mention NSCAA/adidas NCAA Division II All-American. Thanks to his leadership, the Bulldogs won the 2002 Food Lion SAC tourney. Szvetitz earned All-Southeast Region first team honors in 2002 and 2003.

Wingate’s freshman male Athlete of the Year award winner in 2001-02, Szvetitz picked up his scoring during his final campaign. The Jesuit High product had eight goals and four assists (20 points) during the 2004 season as Wingate compiled an 11-4-3 overall record.
